Jared's broad experience enables him to bring creative solutions to complicated problems. He has represented a wide variety of clients ranging from small businesses to some of the largest and most well-known companies to recently enter chapter 11 proceedings. His recent representations include Sears and Bumble Bee Tuna, and he also advises the Future Claimants' Representative in numerous mass tort bankruptcies such as the Boy Scouts of America.

Jared received his undergraduate degree from Hamilton College. After college, Jared worked as a litigation legal assistant at Skadden, Arps in New York. He then graduated from Temple University Beasley School of Law, where he was the Symposium and Articles Editor for the Temple Law Review. While at Temple, Jared served as a judicial extern for the Honorable Judge Kevin J. Carey in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware as well as for the Honorable Judge Joseph F. Leeson for the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.
